

Experiential Learning: Find the Obstacles

After students have had an opportunity to think about people with blindness or other visual impairments, ask them to identify the obstacles in the following two drawings that would pose a safety risk to people who cannot see.

